

Tim Zawacki

Principal Research Analyst | S&P Global Market Intelligence

Tim Zawacki is a Principal Research Analyst covering the U.S. insurance industry for S&P Global Market Intelligence. He has covered the insurance industry in various capacities since joining SNL Financial, the predecessor to S&P Global Market Intelligence, in 1999.

Based in Charlottesville, VA, Tim authors the annual U.S. Property & Casualty Market Report, U.S. Life and Annuity Market Report and various other thought leadership providing historical context and outlooks regarding key industry trends and developments at the line of business level. He is also responsible for periodic research analyzing insurance M&A and various risk-transfer developments.

Tim frequently participates as a speaker or panelist at a range of industry events. He also is often quoted by national media and trade publications.